Little Dipper

Age 2 and up

Conceived with the help of a child psychologist, this series uses everyday situations to describe children’s feelings about themselves and their world.

Discovering that animals eat grass, sleep in the mud and have dozens of babies is fascinating for young readers.

In this series:
- Bath Time
- The Doctor
- Where Is Teddy?
- It's Mine!
- A Special Guest
- A Day At The Farm

At last, Caillou is here! He is at his Uncle Felix’s farm. “I want to see the animals,” says Caillou. “The sheep are hungry,” says Uncle Felix. “Come and help me feed them.”
Caillou goes into the barn. The sheep start bleating.
Ba-a-a-a-a, ba-a-a-a-a.
"It smells bad in here," says Caillou. Uncle Felix and Caillou give the sheep some grain to eat.
Caillou wants a better look at the baby sheep. “Can I touch it?” he asks. Caillou pets the little lamb. “So soft…” whispers Caillou.
Next, Caillou runs up to the cows. They are chewing on some hay. One cow pushes at Caillou’s hand with her nose. “It’s wet!” Caillou bursts out laughing.
